FROM THE HOT SEAT

Hello everyone

Welcome to 2019. Whew! How did we get here? It seems like the millennium was just the other day. I do hope that you all had a great Christmas and were able to celebrate with family and friends.

I had a message from Heidi Cox of Fabrics Unravelled, wanting to know what we do with all our little scraps of fabric. I was happy to be able to tell her that not one little bit of scrap goes to waste. It's all turned into pillows for doggies and kitties at the Animal Welfare Society.

But this year, I am on a big recycling mission. I have learned that everything is recyclable (perhaps not biodegradable, but definitely recyclable). I will be telling you all about that at our next meeting.

I hope 2019 will be a good quilting year for everyone. Here's to a great festival in Johannesburg, and I do hope you are all entering a quilt into the competition, and perhaps attending some classes.

Keep the quilting flag flying.

Profile of a Quilter : Marline Turner

Marline Turner has worked tirelessly to advance quilting in KZN and SA for many years. She has represented KZNQG at SAQG for 18 years. Sadly, Marline resigned from Committee this year.

Marline remembers the start of her sewing journey fondly: "I started quilting from a very young age, probably age 6. My paternal Grandmother brought me up, she was an accomplished sewer and encouraged me all the way."

"I would make cushion covers using Hexagons. She always said 'If something is worth doing, do it to the best of your ability'."

"I was never allowed to start a new project if I

*Above: Royal Doulton, Delft or Wedgewood
Winner of "Usha Excellence Award" at India
Quilt Festival 2019*

had not completed something that I had already started. That has carried on through my quilting journey as I honestly do not have UFOs."

Above:

Passion Lives On Jess — Made in memory of Jess van Niekerk, one of South African Quilters whose work Marline admired greatly.

Right:

Marakech Mosaics - Made after a visit to Morocco

"I might have a machine project that I will work on during the day but then I will have a handwork project that I work on at night."

Marline has been most influenced by her grandmother as well as "things that I see in nature, buildings and in my travels", she says

Marline finds designing, making and completing a quilt, as well as teaching others the skills and quilt-making knowledge that she has gleaned over the many years, most exciting.

Below: Something Old Something New—using various techniques

Above:

Several Shades of Grey—quick and easy pineapple blocks and machine applique

"Another thing that my Grandmother told me is 'The devil finds work for idle hands!!' So I keep my hands busy all the time." Clearly that is a mantra that Marline has stuck to throughout her quilting career, because she has thus far completed 374 quilts!!

KZNQG Chairlady Lyn and the whole committee wish to convey their heart-felt Thanks to Marline for her dedication, help, input, her worthy suggestions, encouragement and moral support extended to everyone who needed it. We will all miss your selfless support. We hope you will continue your quilting journey and keep us all inspired. *

A huge Thank You to everyone who donates to, and/or buys goods at the KZNQG Sales Table on Open Days.

Last year your contributions raised R4000 towards the Festival Fund.

We would like to renew our appeal for quilt-related sales-table items—please contact Liz Reed on thereeds@ledom.co.za to make arrangements for collection.

34 accredited South African quilt teachers and 6 internationally renowned teachers will be offering workshops at Festival.

Please visit the Festival website festival.quiltsouthafrica.co.za to find out what is new.

Quilters' attention is drawn to the following important RULES for Entering the South African National Quilt Competition:

An entrant can pay someone for having done work on their entry only in the Collaborative and/or Group categories. The person who is paid is considered to be one of the entrants. The name(s) of the paid entrant/quilter and the type of work done e.g. design, piecing, quilting, embellishing or finishing, must be stated on the entry form.

A maximum of four (4) entries are allowed per person. Thus, a participating quilter can enter no more than four (4) quilts into the competition, whether you enter as an individual in the Bed, Wall, Open and/or any other individual optional categories, or as a participant of a category that includes Collaborative Quilts, Group Quilts or Community Quilts. Those who have been paid to work on a quilt are also considered an entrant on the quilt and therefore the rule of a maximum of four (4) entries also applies to these persons.

Time to Celebrate
SAQG Quilt Collection

SAQG would like to encourage each Regional Guild and Country Group member to participate enthusiastically.

They ask that each Guild and Country Group choose and enter three of their best entries.

30 Quilts will then be selected for display at the SAQG stall at Festival 2019. Individual members belonging to the SAQG are also invited to participate.

At Festival, visitors to the Time to Celebrate Exhibition can vote for the Viewers' Choice and the winner will be announced at the Farewell Function at the end of the Festival.

This collection of celebratory quilts will also be included in the SAQG Travelling Exhibition to travel around South Africa for the next two years.

GUILD NEWS

Queensburgh Quilters

At our September meeting we chatted and decided to enter a quilt for the 2019 Quilt festival "INTERCHANGE". Lynn kindly jumped in and organized the quilt with ideas and instructions for each member, so everyone is busy making their contribution to the quilt. Queensburgh Quilters entered 4 quilts in the KZNQG competition 'OUR ENVIROMENT'.

Our October meeting was a lovely outing to see the fibre works exhibition at the NSA gallery, followed by delicious cake and coffee at their coffee shop.

November meeting was used to tag our thread catchers we made for our own festival goody bags and Leanne demonstrated her jelly roll quilt.

Our last meeting of the year was celebrated with a lovely lunch to end 2018. The past year has been very busy for all our members and I am sure 2019 will not be any different. We will have our group quilt high on our list to complete in time.

Yours in quilting

Sew Wot Guild

We met at Rosemary's house in January, taking the opportunity to hold a short AGM during which we said a sad goodbye to Jenni, who resigned as Chairlady, deciding to join a bigger guild in order to explore arty quilting techniques.

The new Chairlady, Simona, had already been elected in December and so we quickly moved on to the important business of drinking coffee and catching up with old friends.

Show-and-tell mixed well with news of family and holiday travels.

This year some of our Guild will be making the South African Gypsy Wife quilt as designed and taught by Mari Strydom in Clarens and successfully completed by our member, Ronel (photo on the left). We each purchased the pattern from Mari and will be keeping her well-supplied with photographs of our progress.

Our guild meets second Saturday of each month at members' homes.

Visitors and new members are always welcome !

Yours in quilting—Simona

DURBAN FESTIVAL 2023

Durban's next festival will take place in 2023. We have 4 years left to prepare for our festival.

Guilds are welcome to donate any available funds to the Festival Account. These funds will be required long before the Festival date, in order to secure the venue, teachers, accommodation, gifts and other items, and as such, your Guild's contributions are much appreciated.

Please also remember that KZNQG would like to raffle a quilt from each Guild, each year, between now and 2023.

Richmond Country Quilters

13 October 2018 was our biannual Exhibition which was held at Richlands Church. We had worked really hard for two years to produce a lot of lovely quilts and quilted items. We are country women, so decided to display the quilts in a different manner. We used ladders and irrigation pipes to create hanging rails and also gazebo frames. I thought it was a lovely change. The local garden club kindly supplied flowers which added to the pretty display. The Ixopo group "Quilt at Home" joined in and with some lovely quilts from their get togethers. Sadly we did not have any visitors from other guilds. Unfortunately it was a really cold day, again, and the petrol price had gone up enormously. Perhaps next time... For our year end function we had a lovely lunch at The Hangar Coffee Shop. As Chairlady I requested that each member make a pin/brooch to pop in a brown bag to swap as a gift. As always I was amazed at the creativity of our members and the variety of ideas was wonderful. The Hangar always provides a fantastic spread in a lovely setting.

We had a nice long break over Christmas and at our first Committee Meeting we decided that we were all rather over making quilts for a while so the Chairlady's Challenge for the first quarter was to produce something wearable. It didn't need to be quilted but is to be pieced. We have a number of dressmakers in our Guild, so it is going to be interesting to see how we are all dressed at our April meeting which is also our AGM. The Committee has come up with the idea of making a sample quilt in the form of a table runner and members will demonstrate different blocks each month, to be used in the runner. Again we look forward to seeing what is produced.

We still have our meetings every third Wednesday of the month at 2pm, at the Richmond Bowling Club. We love to have visitors join us for an afternoon's chat and tea.

Tollgate Quilters' Guild

Proud supporters of Quilt Academy

We had an amazing meeting in October last year, celebrating quilting and friendship. Most of our members brought a friend and each member showed a few of their quilts: their first or worst; their favourite and their current project. So just the biggest show 'n tell ever!

Our year-end Christmas party was (as always), a veritable feast of food and friendship, bringing our guild year to an end.

At our first meeting this year, the conversation just continued – isn't it lovely to be part of a group that is literally held together by threads? And talking of threads, our speaker in January was Wendy MacLeod, my favourite yarn artist, who showed us a little of everything that she does – SO inspirational...

All photos are of Wendy's work.

As always, Tollgate continues with the organising of Quilt Academy, and at our first session this year, Mandy Kirk taught us her beautiful "Star Burst" block. A wonderful way to start the QA year with a bang!
We look forward to Carol's "Stainglass Windows" at the end of March.

We meet in the evening of the third Tuesday of every month at the Glenwood Presbyterian Church, and would love for you to come and join us, from 7 to 9pm.

Yours in stitches

Grassroots Guild

Well, here we are again at the start of a new year. I am looking forward to the festival in Johannesburg and hope to go and do some classes.

In October, Tiiu Excell told us all about Hawaaiian quilts and in November, we had our usual Christmas party at the lovely home of Sheila Nichol. It was good to be able to meet with friends, because at the meetings, we are usually too busy to get to know everyone.

Not much news happening at Grassroots. We are keeping a low profile! We are almost finished making our fabric baskets for the goodie bags. Not too many to go now and then we can put this project to bed.

We are anticipating being entertained by our various buddy groups once again. This system is working so well in our guild, and I think every guild should try it. It takes a lot of pressure off the committee.

Mano Naidoo has been our librarian for 6 years and is stepping down for a well deserved break. Merle Mulder is stepping into the breach, and I am sure she will do very well. She is a very organized lady.

LYN GONZAGA

The start to 2019 began with an exciting interactive workshop on Kaleidoscope Quilts given by Veronica Lennard. Great fun.

We look forward to a busy and active stitching year.

Midlands Guild

Welcome to 2019 and may it be a happy and prosperous one for all quilters.

The new year has started off with a bang. The Christmas challenge produced eleven lovely quilts, thank you to all the ladies who participated.

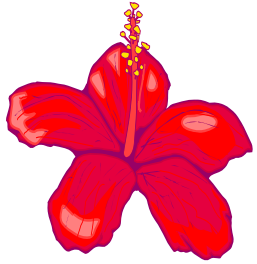

Jane has given us this year's charity blocks, it will be another amazing quilt. The challenge will be exactly that: a challenge, to a lot of us, so come on ladies, let us break last year's record of nineteen challenge quilts!

Last year saw our charity quilt raise R9,800.00 for the Jess Ford Foundation despite the weather and the economic climate. It was a lovely amount to have made. Well done, and a big Thank You to all the members who so willingly helped at the show.

May this year be a huge success with lots of exciting things happening. Hopefully lots of quilts made by the KwaZulu-Natal quilters will be on display at the festival later this year.

To all the amazing quilters in our province make us proud.

Jill Krog

Hibiscus Quilters Guild

A belated Happy New Year to all the quilters out there. I hope that this year will see the end of many UFO's and the beginnings of many new and inspiring projects.

Last year Twig and her Challenge Packs came to visit and a number of packs were sold. 4 of us took the plunge - two of us for the first time - and entered them into the competition. We managed to get a Third Place and a Highly Commended for our work. Not bad for a field of 22 entries. We might even be persuaded to do another! See photo on the right.

Christmas and the visitors have come and gone so now we can turn our minds to projects for 2019. We have hit the ground running with a community project - Vroetel Doeke - Fiddle Quilts. These are small quilts/aprons for people suffering from Alzheimers' or Parkinson's disease. They are tactile quilts made from all sorts of different textures which are sewn on to a background fabric. Zips, buttons, lace, braid, all come into play. The idea is for the patients to amuse themselves with the attachments on the quilt and avoid other unwelcome behaviour. The quilts will be handed over to Palm Haven once they are all completed. See photo on the left.

We have more projects in the pipeline so we are looking forward to a very productive year.

On a personal note and in the spirit of completing UFO's, I finally got my shaggy quilt finished (see photo on the right) The pattern had been in my "to do" file (otherwise known as the 'future projects/some day one day' file) for some years, so last year I got started.

Had a lot of fun and finally got to use all the fancy stitches on my machine that I forgot I had. I have to admit that one of the motivating factors was that I had to return the lovely spring loaded scissors a quilting friend had lent me to do all the snipping, before she moved away!

In case there are any of you who actually made New year's Resolutions, here is one worth thinking about :

To finish all the quilt projects from 2018 that should have been finished in 2017, which were started in 2016 after buying supplies for them in 2015 with the patterns found in 2014.

And on that thoughtful note, happy quilting in 2019!

Margi

Kloof Country Quilters

We finished 2018 with a happy fun December meeting. Members dressed in red, white and or green and we had many vendors selling various products: marmalade, perfume, pearl jewellery, quilting fabric, painted cards and calendars etc. There were some lovely items to purchase for Christmas gifts.

Our members collected panties for Project Dignity and these were handed over to Brenda (see pic on the right) who told us more their Subz washable reusable pads and panties. Many young girls are unable to attend school during their menstrual cycle as they cannot afford sanitary products. Project Dignity educates them about menstruation and teaches them how to use their Subz products which are distributed to those who need all over KZN. Such a worthwhile project and we were happy to have contributed.

Our Indian ladies supplied delicious eats for tea and the rest of the morning was spent having fun and winning prizes!!! Strip Poker, Quilters Bingo, Pin the Block on the Quilt and Pass the Cracker were some of the games played.

Best wishes to all for a creative quilting 2019.....I'm challenging our ladies to "think out the box"

Regards,
Felicity

Kloof Village Quilters Guild

In October Beverley-Ann Fink presented "Second Chances", in which she revealed the experiences and personal emotions of her breast cancer journey. She and her support group have published a helpful booklet "A Practical Guide to Breast Cancer in SA". Hers was a timely message with the high incidence of breast cancer in women of "our age".

NB. Early diagnosis saves lives, please don't ignore warning signs!

In November we celebrated the 90th birthday of member, Bernice Vincent, who is still a productive quilter. Are there more quilt-active nonagenarians in our Guild? Our AGM was followed by craft demos by four of our members who generously shared their talents.

In December, our ladies proved they can cook as well as they sew, by providing a wonderful feast to celebrate Christmas.

We started 2019 right at the 'top of the pile' with our first guest speaker of the year, Rosalie Dace. What an inspiration she is! Last year she challenged us to produce a spontaneous creative piece and bring it along to our 'show and tell' this year. I hope she was as excited as I was, to see our imaginative and beautifully-made offerings!

We're already fired up and working on our group quilt for this year's Festival. Our 2017 group quilt, as 2nd prize winner, is a hard act to follow.

We wish you all a joyful 'Quilting Year'

Viv Christianson

Pleasuretime Quilters Guild, Scottburgh

The festive season is past us & we are all back into our routines. Our sewing rooms have been cleaned & tidied up - what an array of materials found that we had forgotten where we put them. The sewing machines have been oiled & ready to sew. We now need the inspiration to flow

Our first meeting on 17th January was very well attended with several visitors.

Our speaker—Mary Chapman - gave us an insight into her quilting journey. There was a lot of humor & inspiration in her journey. She brought several of her quilts whose process of creation was described, from inception to completion. The one quilt that stood out was her wall hanging depicting the Knysna fires. She also showed us an eezy-peezy method of doing unusual half square triangles. We all learnt a lot & were greatly inspired by Mary.

Our raffle quilt was won by Elsa Schonken who was so delighted to have won it.

Our Master Quilter, Sally, gave us details of her next course. She will be doing an A - Z Quilting course which has been welcomed by our new members. The course starts at the very beginning - choosing colours - to a finished quilt.

Our next workshop will be held on the 07th February 2019 & will be hosted by the Hillfillies. We have been given a list of items to bring with us - looking forward to what the final item will be.

Our next monthly meeting will be on the 21st February 2019.
